Animal Visitor Policy — Version 2.0

1. Purpose

Version 2.0 tightens the hat rule after a platypus entered the building simply by removing its fedora at the door.

2. Scope

This policy applies to pets, service animals, minion mascots, and any animal that arrives by crashing through a skylight.

3. Pet Visits

3.1 Bring Your Pet Day. Bring Your Pet Day moves to the last Friday of each month so that it no longer coincides with inator testing.

3.2 Prohibited Animals. Prohibited animals include sharks, alligators, and any animal that has ever worn a hat, even if it is not wearing one now.

4. Platypus Sightings

4.1 Reporting. Any platypus seen inside the building must be reported to Facilities at once, with a description of its hat, if any.

4.2 Response. Employees should not approach the platypus. They should calmly move away from any inator and alert the CEO, who will want to know.

5. Allergies

Employees with allergies may request a pet-free floor. The seventh floor is permanently pet-free, except for the ooze, which is not technically a pet.

6. Acknowledgment

Bringing an animal to work constitutes acknowledgment of this policy.
