

Doofenshmirtz Evil Incorporated

Evil Budget Allocation Policy — Version 1.0

1. Purpose

This policy explains how the annual evil budget is divided between departments, so that no single scheme can consume the entire company's money again.

2. Scope

This policy covers every department with a budget line, including the departments the CEO forgot he created.

3. Budget Split

The annual evil budget is split as follows.

Department	Share of Budget
Inator R&D	45 percent
Minion Operations	20 percent
Facilities and Lair Upkeep	15 percent
Evil PR	10 percent
Everything Else	10 percent

Unspent budget returns to the general evil fund at the end of the fiscal year.

4. Mid-Year Requests

4.1 Request Window. Departments may request a mid-year budget increase once, in June, by submitting a form and a convincing villain backstory.

4.2 Backstory Review. Backstories are scored by the CFO for emotional impact. Backstories involving a childhood in Gimmelshtump score automatically high, which Finance acknowledges is unfair.

5. Overspend Consequences

A department that overspends its share loses its snack budget for the following quarter.

6. Acknowledgment

Department heads acknowledge this policy by spending responsibly, or at least creatively.
