

Doofenshmirtz Evil Incorporated

Evil PR and Social Media Policy — Version 3.0

1. Purpose

Version 3.0 retires the old slogan after focus groups in Danville said it was 'technically accurate but not inspiring'.

2. Scope

This policy applies to anyone speaking for the company, posting about the company, or appearing on the news near a smoking crater.

3. Social Media

3.1 Approved Accounts. Only the Evil PR team may post on official company accounts. Posts must include at least one evil laugh, written as 'mwahaha'.

3.2 Personal Accounts. Employees may mention they work here, but may not post photos of unfinished inators or the CEO's baby pictures.

4. Media Requests

All media requests must now reach Evil PR within 2 hours, down from 24 hours. Interviews during schemes remain prohibited.

5. Slogans

The official slogan is now 'Doofenshmirtz Evil Incorporated: Taking Over the Tri-State Area, One Inator at a Time'. Old merchandise may be sold at a discount.

6. Influencers

The company may sponsor villain influencers with more than 10,000 followers, provided they never film the self-destruct button.

7. Acknowledgment

Speaking about the company in public constitutes acknowledgment of this policy.
