Incident Report IR-0112 Intern Turned Into Houseplant — Version 1.0

1. Summary

An intern was accidentally turned into a ficus by the Plant-Everything-inator and spent an afternoon in the lab before anyone noticed. No platypus was involved, for once. The intern reported the experience as 'very relaxing'.

2. Timeline

- 1:00 p.m. Intern working alone in Lab 4
- 1:05 p.m. Inator misfires, intern becomes a ficus
- 5:30 p.m. Night guard waters the ficus, ficus says thank you

3. Root Cause

The intern was working alone with no lab buddy and no check-in schedule.

4. Corrective Actions

- 4.1 Buddy System. A lab buddy system was added in Laboratory Safety Policy 2.0.
- 4.2 Watering. The intern received a full day of paid leave and fertilizer.

5. Sign-Off

Reviewed by the Incident Commander and filed with Incident Response. A joke was included in the cover email, per HR Policy.
