

Doofenshmirtz Evil Incorporated

Perry the Platypus Countermeasures Protocol — Version 1.0

TOP SECRET — EYES OF HEINZ DOOFENSHMIRTZ ONLY

1. Purpose

This document sets out the company's official countermeasures against Perry the Platypus, also known as Agent P of O.W.C.A., our one and only nemesis. It must never be read aloud during a monologue.

2. Scope

This document applies to the CEO and to the three employees cleared for Nemesis Operations. Everyone else should stop reading and go have some cake.

3. Identification

3.1 Field Appearance. Agent P is a teal platypus who wears a brown fedora and walks upright on two legs. Without the fedora he is a mindless pet who just sort of lies there and does nothing.

3.2 Signature Sound. Agent P announces himself with a low chattering sound. If you hear the chatter, an inator will be destroyed within the hour.

4. Trap Specifications

4.1 Standard Trap. The standard trap is a reinforced cage that drops from the ceiling when the nemesis steps on the welcome mat marked 'Welcome, Perry'.

4.2 Trap Load Rating. Every cage must hold at least 400 pounds of determined platypus. Cages are tested monthly by an intern in a teal costume.

4.3 Trap Code Name. The current trap program is code-named Operation Fedora Drop. The code name may not be used in emails, chats or elevator monologues.

5. Monologue Timing

Once Agent P is trapped, the CEO may begin the monologue only after the inator is fully charged, which takes 4 minutes, so that the escape at minute eleven is less of a problem.

6. Acknowledgment

Reading this document constitutes acknowledgment that you will tell nobody, especially not anyone wearing a fedora. Curse you, Perry the Platypus.